▶▶▶ Haven Athletics Special Events Headline Fall Schedule

The LHU athletics teams and the Crimson and White Athletics Club embraced Bald and Lady Eagle alums and supporters with a full docket of events this fall. Haven teams, as well as the official athletics booster club led by Athletics Development Director Troy Miller (tmiller4@lhup.edu), continue to generate both widespread and specialized interest in the successes of the department.

<<<Men's soccer welcomed back alums for the Haven Soccer Celebration, recognizing the 30th Anniversary of the 1977 NCAA Division III National Championship team. The event was held on September 29, as alumni witnessed a 2-0 win for the current Bald Eagles over Kutztown University on McCollum Field.

Former men's soccer coach Karl Herrmann used the opportunity to announce the new Karl Herrmann Soccer Scholarship and the Karl and Lynne Herrmann Pavilion to be constructed at Hubert Jack Stadium to improve facilities on the eve of a major transition for Haven soccer. The 2007 season marked the final episode of Haven soccer on the McCollum pitch, the future home located on a new field turf surface at Jack Stadium.

>>>The LHU Football squad took the opportunity to recognize and thank the families of two former Bald Eagle gridders, dedicating their home contest versus the California Vulcans to Pete Hanlon and Bruno DiMartile, two Haven alumni who recently passed away. Teammates, Hanlon and DiMartile both were loved and respected and gave back to their community. Hanlon was a 1980 alumnus, while DiMartile attended LHU from 1979-82.

>>>Finally, the Lady Eagle volleyball program celebrated the contributions of program originator Tien "Bob" Chu with a special alumnae reception and dinner at the Sieg Conference Center. Several program alumni made their way back to the Haven for the gathering, which included comments from Director of Athletics Sharon Taylor, Chairman of the Crimson and White Athletics Club Subcommittee John Cattoni (at right), LHU Volleyball club team coach and founder Bob Chu, and LHU volleyball club team student founder Maureen Murphy-Klees (at top left, l-r: Maureen Murphy-Klees, Mrs. Chu, Mr. Bob Chu).

ELAINE PIERSON
 Memorial Scholarship Fund

The Elaine Pierson Memorial Scholarship Event was held in late October, kicking off a campaign of remembrance of LHU field hockey and lacrosse alum Elaine Pierson with proceeds benefiting scholarships for both Haven programs.

The Lock Haven wrestling team held its annual Hall of Fame dinner at Elk Lodge in Lock Haven this fall. The 2007 inductees were Ron Coffel, Paul Rusko and Austin Shanfelter. LHU volleyball coach Tom Justice was on hand to accept the recognition on the behalf of Coffel. This year's guest speaker was J Robinson, head wrestling coach at the University of Minnesota.

YOUTHFUL HAVEN HARRIERS TURN OUT SUCCESSFUL SEASON

For the Haven cross country team, tracks laid by previous runners are a mandate to excel -- no matter which seven toe the start line. This season, a youthful Bald Eagle squad regularly fronted five to six freshmen and sophomores among its top unit.

The Crimson and White welcomed in the 2007 season with a top finish at the Maroon & Gold Invitational, followed up by a third-place finish at a highly competitive LHU Invite back on the home West Branch Course. Additional season highlights included a fourth-place at the Penn State Spiked Shoe Invitational, along with a team runner-up placement at the Dickinson Invitational.

Haven harriers battled slippery footing through rainy and muddy conditions at the PSAC Championships in late October. The Bald Eagles were unable to add to the string of four-straight team titles that day, but combined for a third-place standing along with two individual All-PSAC runners in senior Shawn Moore, who placed 15th, and sophomore Jed Yeatts, who crossed the finish in 19th place. One week later, the Haven played host to the NCAA Division II East Region Championship. Lock Haven took another third place at that meet, with the sophomore duo of Jed Yeatts and Brandon Pomerantz leading the way in 13th and 15th place, respectively, for All-Region honors.

▶▶▶ LHU CROSS COUNTRY CONTINUES ASCENT IN CONFERENCE, REGION

Shala Simms
All-Region and All-PSAC

The last time the Lady Eagle cross country team boasted an All-Region runner was 2001...until this season. Junior Shala Simms brought that Haven record into the present with an eighth-place finish at the NCAA regional. Likewise, the team itself continues to improve its performance as a unit both during the season and in post-season action.

The Lady Eagles kicked off the 2007 season by taking home the runner-up trophy at the Maroon & Gold Invitational, a promising indicator for the remainder of the year. Other solid finishes included an eighth-place finish at the LHU Invite, and a sixth-place finish at the Dickinson Invitational. Once into post-season, the Haven would take 10th place overall at the PSAC Championship behind an All-Conference performance by Simms, who crossed the line sixth out of the 115-runner field. The Crimson and White completed their season as the host of the NCAA East Regional, grabbing 11th place in addition to the eighth-place, All-Region, finish by Simms.

▶▶▶ LADY EAGLE SOCCER RECORDS SOLID, HISTORY-WORTHY SEASON

LHU all-time saves leader Emily Wagner

The Lady Eagle soccer team finished within one win of a bid to the PSAC Tournament. Though little consolation for a season of hard work, it is telling of the caliber of play the Haven and third-year head coach Heather Davis expects. Lock Haven remained in the playoff hunt until close to the end, winning four-straight over Mansfield, Clarion, Shippensburg, and California to keep things exciting. Three end-of-season losses, however, including a 1-0 loss to 14th-ranked Slippery Rock, would close the door on tournament chances.

Individual highlights dotted the season, including a record-breaking performance by senior goalkeeper Emily Wagner. Wagner became LHU's all-time leading saves leader, totaling 331 over her career at the Haven. That mark eclipses the previous record set in 1999 by keeper Jen Foster, who tallied 294 during her career in goal.

Six players earned All-PSAC West honors, including senior midfielder Lynnette Reitz, who claimed First Team recognition. Seniors Emily Wagner, Colleen Kafka, Kyleigh Roth, and Bekah Stonecypher, along with rookie Arielle Gordon, all pocketed Second Team honors.

▶▶ HAVEN SOCCER SEASON YIELDS PSAC RUNNER-UP HONORS

It was another busy year for the Haven men's soccer club, both on the pitch and off. The Bald Eagles celebrated the 30th anniversary of their 1977 NCAA Division III National Championship season with festivities during a regular season match (see page 1). The Haven was also again in the hunt for the PSAC Championship title, wrapping up head coach Doug Moore's sixth campaign with a runner-up finish in the conference on top of an overall balance of 13 wins and seven losses.

The Bald Eagles bounced in and out of the top two slots in the PSAC rankings before finishing second in regular season action with a mark of 11-5 in conference competition. Lock Haven drew a semifinal hosting opportunity against Millersville University, whom they had beaten twice during the regular season. The third time around was no different, as the Bald Eagles advanced through to the championship round with a 3-0 victory over the Marauders. Once in the finals, the Haven squared off against nemesis East Stroudsburg University. LHU's season came to an end there, suffering a heartbreaking, 1-0, double-overtime loss to the Warriors that also knocked them out of contention for an NCAA berth.

The Haven's winning season extended its streak to nine straight. The Bald Eagle defense ranked among the conference's best, rated second in the PSAC in goals allowed per game (1.11), goals against average (1.02), and shutouts (8). Individually, three Haven players were recognized as all-conference including senior forward Ashley Rosindale (top left) and junior forward Paul Hockett (right) with First Team nods, as well as junior defender Lyndell Pompey, who earned Second Team honors. Rosindale earned extra honors as a Daktronics Division II Second Team All-America forward.

▶▶▶ Softball Claims 2006-07 CHAMPS CHALLENGE Crown

The Lady Eagle Softball team pulled out the victory in the annual CHAMPS Challenge with a combined total of 1900 points, all earned in both individual and team activities that compliment the purpose of the CHAMPS-Life Skills program mission. The Haven's CHAMPS-Life Skills program encourages personal development, career development, community service, and both academic and athletic excellence.

Among the softball team's projects were the Adopt-A-Family Holiday Program as well as a Knock MS (Multiple Sclerosis) Out of the Park fundraising project. They were also active supporters of other LHU athletics teams, attending several contests during each season in order to cheer on the Haven.

▶▶▶ LADY EAGLE VOLLEYBALL BATTLES THROUGH UNUSUAL SEASON

The Haven volleyball crew battled through an out-of-the-ordinary season, finishing up with an overall mark of 10-18 under 17th-year head coach Tom Justice. The Lady Eagles struggled early to find their rhythm, with mediocre performances in competitive non-conference schedule against several ranked teams. Once into PSAC West action, the Haven managed a 3-7 mark, including a sweep over Indiana (Pa.) University, and also totaled a 5-1 ledger versus teams in the PSAC Eastern Division.

On the season, the Lady Eagles still were able to pace the PSAC in team blocking, ranked first with a 2.77 blocks per game average. That total also ranked LHU ninth nationally in the same category. The Haven also rated fourth among conference teams in team hitting percentage, converting to kills 23.2-percent of all offensive attacks.

Individually, the Crimson and White had two players, junior Stacey Borgia and senior Inga Kurgonaite (pictured at left), earn All-PSAC West post-season awards. Borgia, a middle hitter, grabbed First Team accolades while Kurgonaite, an opposite hitter, scored Second Team honors. Kurgonaite also picked up a Daktronics All-Region award for her performance throughout the season.

▶▶▶ BALD EAGLE GRIDDERS GRIND THROUGH TOUGH '07 SCHEDULE

The Bald Eagle gridders wrapped up the 2007 season with an overall mark of 1-10 and went 1-5 in the PSAC Western Division. It proved to be a tough season, within and outside of PSAC divisional play, with two Division I Football Championship Subdivision (FCS, formerly Division I-AA) contests in addition to in-conference games against teams ranked among the best in the nation, including national semifinalist California (PA). Lock Haven would engineer a 17-14 overtime victory against Clarion at the end of the '07 docket to prevent a winless season and to finish sixth overall in the West.

The Haven had one player, sophomore offensive lineman Ryan Gobble (#71, pictured at right), earn recognition as a PSAC West Second Team Offense selection. Other notables included sophomore kicker Marc Domonkos, who ranked second in the PSAC in field goal percentage (69.2%) and third among conference kickers in field goals (0.82/gm). Senior linebacker Corey Gildea was rated fourth on the conference's defensive charts, totaling an average of 9.1 tackles per game (100 total tackles).

▶▶▶ FIELD HOCKEY COLLECTS BACK-TO-BACK NEC TITLES, ADVANCES TO NCAA PLAY-IN GAME

It's no secret that the Lady Eagle field hockey team has dominated the Northeast Conference since joining the Division I ranks four years ago. The pressure to continue that trend can be overwhelming, but the 2007 Haven squad proved once again to be up for the challenge. This year's campaign would crown the Lady Eagles as 'back-to-back' champion of the league tournament, as the Crimson and White went 17-6 overall and 7-0 in the NEC under 12th-year head coach Pat Rudy.

The Haven posted wins against non-conference opponents such as LaSalle University (5-0), Bucknell University (6-2), and Colgate University (3-2), early in the season. A one-goal, 3-4, loss on the road against then #9-ranked Penn State University broke up a five-game win streak, but solid play against the top-ten ranked program only energized the Lady Eagles. The Haven then proceeded to close out the season undefeated within NEC play, the first time since its initial year with the league, and captured its fourth straight NEC regular season title.

For the second year in a row, Lock Haven earned the opportunity to host the NEC Tournament at Charlotte Smith Field. The Lady Eagles matched up against Saint Francis University in the semifinal round, using three second-half goals to advance to the championship game by virtue of a 3-0 score. Lock Haven then took on Rider University in the championship tilt. The Lady Eagles fell behind, 1-0, late in the first half, but answered less than four minutes later to even the match heading into intermission. Out of the break, the Crimson and White defense held strong while the offense registered a pair scores to push ahead and capture the second-straight NEC trophy with the 3-1 victory against Rider.

The journey did not end there, however, as the Lady Eagles prepped straight-away for a trip to Stanford University for an NCAA Tournament play-in game. Despite holding the offensive advantage of shots on goal, the Haven's chances for an NCAA berth came to a 0-1 end as the Cardinals would get an unanswered score past the LHU defense midway through the second period.

Several players earned post-season recognition, including senior forward Blair Wynne (pictured at right). Wynne collected NFHCA Second Team All-America honors in addition to being named the NEC Player of the Year and NEC Offensive Player of the Year. Sophomore defender Alana Lewis joined Wynne on the NFHCA All-Region Squad and was also named NEC Defensive Player of the Year. Freshman forward Amy Hordendorf was awarded NEC Rookie of the Year honors, while teammates forward Samantha Stoyer, forward Suzann Hobart, midfielder Renee Kemmerer, and senior Abigail Cerrone were all members of the All-NEC squad.
