LHU Yard Sale to benefit KCSD Organized by students in Small Group Communication class

Lock Haven University students in Dr. Matthew Girton's Small Group Communication class have broken into groups to organize and run service projects. The group calling themselves Team Treasures will be holding a yard sale on Saturday, November 12 from 9:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. in the East Campus gymnasium. All proceeds from the sale will benefit the Keystone Central School District.

Donations can be dropped off at the gym on the day of the sale. Those who wish to donate earlier should contact Borden Rank at 814-404-7386.

This semester, all of the students in COMM103 have opted to do a service project as their final course project. Working together to organize and implement a service project, the students are applying and further developing their small group communication skills. After the service projects are completed, all groups must make a class presentation on their project.

A complete list of the COMM103 service projects is available at www.lhup.edu/service
