The Location
Located in the heart of eastern Westphalia, Paderborn (population 130,000) is a city steeped in tradition yet with an eye to the future. Its history dates back 1,200 years. One can still marvel at the architectural beauty of the city’s cathedral, the Ottonian-Salic palace or St. Bartholemew’s chapel. Still, Paderborn’s role as an important commercial center, today, can be seen in its 20th century architecture, impressive highways, industrial estates, and polished residential areas. It is an ideal site for LHU students to consider for their study abroad experience.

The University
The University of Paderborn was founded in 1972 and today maintains a student population of 17,000. Approximately a third of these are students of business administration and economics. The university library holds approximately one million volumes and subscriptions to 3,800 national and international periodicals. The university maintains links with more than 70 universities in Europe, North America, Australia, and Asia. The University of Paderborn firmly believes that these international contacts add to the international flair of the university.

Academics
The academic program at Paderborn is geared toward both German language students and business, management, economics, and accounting students. The German language course (Sprachkurs) consists of four levels (Grundstufe 1, Grundstufe 2, Mittelstufe and Oberstufe). These courses are intensive, meeting over a three-month period of time, five days a week for four hours per day. Students receive 12 semester hours of LHU credit in German. Students may also choose to enroll in a non-credit bearing one month intensive German language program free of charge prior to the start of the fall and spring terms, respectively. For business, management, economics, and accounting students, Paderborn offers a program --- IN ENGLISH --- that will allow them to meet certain core requirements and electives. Courses pre-approved for LHU credit (3 semester hours each) include*:

University of Paderborn
- German Economic Policy
- Basic Concepts in International Management
- Economic Theory of Multinational Enterprises
- International Politics & Economics: Behind Globalization
- European Banking and Finance
- European Human Resource Management
- International Organizational Behavior
- Quality Management in Europe
- Readings and Cases in Organizational Behavior

Lock Haven Equivalent
- ECON379 - Economics Elective
- MANG425 - International Business
- MANG479 - Management Elective
- ECON360 - Current Economic
- ECON340 - Money and Banking
- MANG320 - Human Resource
- PSYC313 - Industrial & Organizational
- MANG379 - Management Elective
- MANG379 - Management Elective
*Students can choose to round out their schedules with an Introductory German language course that meets for 2 hours/week during the semester. Finally, keep in mind that all of the courses above will count towards the International Studies minor at LHU.

Housing

Students pay for their housing accommodations in Paderborn. The International Office (Akademische Auslandsamt) at Paderborn will assist you in securing housing and you will find that you will have a number of options including private rooms in a shared apartment (WG), a one-room apartment with a bathroom and limited cooking possibilities, a private room in a family’s home, or a separate room in a student dorm with shared kitchen and bathroom. Costs range between 200 to 350 Euros per month. Most students find that it is very advantageous to use Paderborn’s efficient transportation system to get to and from classes.

Air Travel – students are responsible for making their own travel arrangements. Please see the international office for assistance. See travel assistance guidelines for details.

Tuition - LHU students continue to pay LHU tuition and fees while attending the Paderborn University. Students are billed for tuition and fees plus an additional $150 International Service Fee. Sprachkurs students are also required to pay approximately $200 to Paderborn for the fall and spring terms, respectively. Keep in mind that all financial aid can apply toward your study in Germany since you are participating on an LHU sponsored program. Students do not pay any tuition or fees in Germany. Please note, however, that it will be necessary to pay for activities such as athletic club memberships, if you wish to utilize those services.

Non-LHU students are billed LHU tuition and fees and a $150 International Service Fee.

Academic Calendar

Depending upon the program in which you decide to enroll, the academic calendar will vary. For Sprachkurs students, the fall term runs from early October through late December (not including the optional September intensive program) and the spring term runs from early January through the end of March. The fall business program runs from early October through mid-December. The spring business program runs from early April through early July. Business program students have the option of enrolling in both the September and March non-credit bearing intensive German course free of charge.

Health Insurance

All students are required to maintain health insurance policy that will provide coverage while abroad and for the entire duration of this period. Information on international health insurance providers can be obtained from the Institute for International Studies. You may find that your present health insurance policy includes overseas coverage. It is important, however, that your carrier provide written verification of such coverage.

So, how do I get started?

Simply come by the Institute for International Studies to pick up an application form. Remember! Applications are due March 1 for the fall term and October 1 for the spring term.
